

Most Effective Remedy Mother Had Ever Used

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Relieves
Baby When Other Medicines
Failed.

There is nothing so necessary to a child's health and comfort as regularity of the bowels. All children are especially susceptible to stomach trouble and any overstrain of the sensitive organs has a tendency to obstruct elimination. This condition is responsible for much of the illness of childhood.

To relieve constipation a mild laxative should be employed. Cathartics and purgatives are violent in their action and should be avoided. Mrs. Alfred Du Bois, Mt. Holly, N. J., says Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is without doubt the most effective remedy for constipation she has ever used and that it is the only remedy she could find for her baby. Little Earl was badly constipated during his first year and nothing she tried seemed to help until she got a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Now he is a fine boy, and she thanks Dr. Caldwell for it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, free from opiates or narcotic drugs; it acts gently without griping or other discomfort, and appeals to children because of its pleasant taste. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle, and every mother should have it in the house for use whenever occasion arises.

To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes always be sure to ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

"Do you know you can tell a man's disposition by his teeth?" asked the girl who believes in signs, bumps and palm reading.
"How interesting!" said her companion, who did not believe in anything.
"Then Jack must have a golden disposition."

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Could Do No Work.
Now Strong as a Man.

Chicago, Ill.—"For about two years I suffered from a female trouble so I was unable to walk or do any of my own work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and determined to try it. It brought almost immediate relief. My weakness has entirely disappeared and I never had better health. I weigh 165 pounds and am as strong as a man. I think money is well spent which purchases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Jos. O'Bryan, 1755 Newport Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Mrs. Walter Aiken is substituting this week in the Seventh Ward school for Miss Cora Whitney, who has been absent on account of the death of Mrs. Caroline Whitney Hawkes.

Edward Paul, the five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Myers of School street, died Thursday morning after an illness of six weeks. He was the youngest child, an elder brother of about two years surviving. The funeral will be held Saturday at 9 o'clock and the remains will be placed in the Park Lawn vault.

In a Boston Globe of recent date, there was published a poem by "Joe Toye" written about the six twins in the freshman class at Wellesley college. The Misses Lucia and Mah Barber, daughters of Hon. O. M. Barber are two of the young ladies brought to public notice and their pictures are published along with the other four.

A gift of $350,000 has been made by an anonymous donor to the Middlesex hospital of medicine and surgery in Cambridge. The College, which has an attendance of about 50, has $100,000 worth of buildings and this gift will treble the capacity. Dr. H. Mildred Haynes of this village is taking a special course in medicine there.

Mrs. Harriet Jackson, Pownall's oldest resident, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Brown last Thursday evening Jan. 18th with the grippe and pneumonia. Mrs. Jackson was born in Pownall March 22, 1827, the daughter of Solomon and Melissa Towhee and was the last of a family of twelve children. She leaves beside Mrs. Brown two other daughters, Mrs. A. F. White of the Pownall road and Mrs. A. C. Niles of Springfield, Mass. Her son died less than a year ago. She also leaves 9 grand children and 13 great grand children. Her funeral was held on Saturday last at her home, conducted by Rev. Kingman Gollidge. Burial was in the Towhee cemetery.

Not Me Tangere.

The proposed law described yesterday to regulate elections contains, according to the report, one provision that is certainly interesting to newspaper publishers. This is the regulation that "any person or corporation withdrawing or threatening to withdraw patronage, advertising or otherwise, from any publication for the purpose of influencing its attitude shall be guilty of a felony."

That suits us all right. Where is the editor who has not received during campaigns letters threatening to "stop the paper" unless the course is changed. Keep it up gentle critics, and behold, the district attorney will have you for "felony." Let nobody hereafter undertake to "influence the attitude" of The Courant. Prison staves in the face whoever attempts that futile job. It is to be noted, too, that this sentence does not say "influence a paper's political attitude, but any old attitude the paper may take. Hands off hereafter. No more letters to the editor, whom occasional "constant readers" have thought they could wipe their feet upon. Henceforth, if the bill passes, it will be a felony to attempt to bulldoze an editor, and yet the editor can do his utmost to influence the reader. Hall independence.—Hartford Courant.

"Less Than the Dust" at the Harte Theatre Today.

All the quaintness, the winsomeness and the roguishness of smile that made her "America's Sweetheart" have been given ample play by Mary Pickford in her new picture, "Less Than the Dust," at the Harte theatre today.

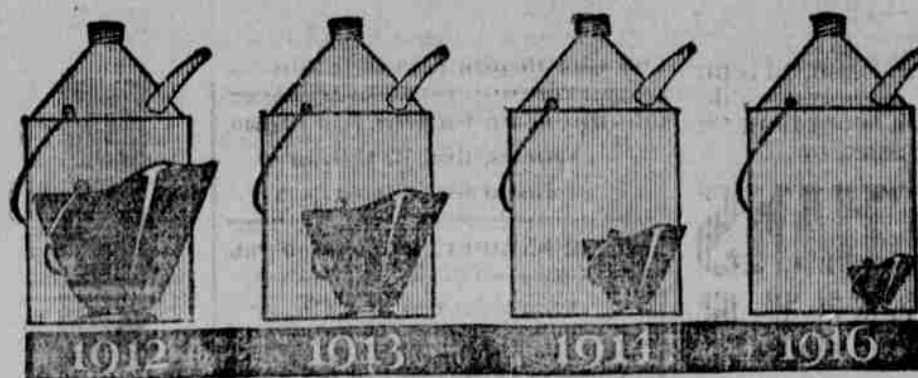

In her conception of the heroine Miss Pickford takes full advantage of the opportunities offered for the display of the whole run of emotions, from tear compelling pathos to the well known ability of the wee star for extracting clean and wholesome fun from the situations provided by the author.

The scenes of the picture are laid in India and England and are all of great beauty. The East Indian environment is especially interesting and picturesque in that the splendid directing has brought to the screen an unmistakable atmosphere and understanding of the lives and customs of the people.

Miss Pickford plays the part of a little castaway who is deserted in India by her father, an English officer who has become a social derelict. She is adopted by a sword maker and reared as a native of the lower caste—less than the dust. During an uprising of the natives and an attack on the troops she saves the life of a young officer, and here begins a tender love story that runs through the picture.

The part is admirably blended for the delightful comedy and tender emotions that always mark Mary Pickford's creations, and it will be a role that will soon take its place among the others in the memories of her host and admirers.

SOCONY KEROSENE

A gallon of Socony Kerosene costs from 10 to 15 cents. Burned in a Perfection Oil Heater it will warm any ordinary room for full hours.

10 or 15 cents worth of coal is about half a scuttle-full—and there's small comfort in a scuttle of coal these days.

A Perfection is on when you need it and off when the weather turns mild. You carry it upstairs and downstairs, wherever you want it.

But the furnace stays in the cellar, steadily burning up the dollars.

Get out your old oil heater, or order a new one today. See that the grocer delivers Socony Kerosene and no other, because Socony is the Standard Oil Company's best grade of refined oil. Look for the Socony Sign in his window.
